Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hodge.

Hodge discloses an addition to three-dimensional stuffed or plush articles designed to incorporate a product-holder interface panel (22) as part of a secondary assembly (10); the product-holder interface panel (22) is a standardized insert attached in a temporary fashion (e.g. by hook-and-loop fasteners) to said three-dimensional stuffed or plush articles (10); said secondary assembly (10) forms a part of the aesthetic representation (e.g. the caricature represented in Figures 1-3, for example) thereof; said product-holder interface panel (22) has product holders (30,32) permanently attached (via stitching) thereto; commonly available and thus standardized photograph holders (30,32) are permanently attached (via stitching) to said product-holder interface panel (22); a closure mechanism (140,142) is engaged to contain and protect said product-holder interface panel (22) and permanent attachments (e.g. stitching) thereto from handling and damage.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hodge in view of Tai et al.

Hodge discloses the claimed invention except for a handle to add portability to the stuffed or plush article.

Tai et al. disclose a stuffed toy (10) that doubles as a carrying article (col. 2, lines 7-10). The stuffed toy (10) includes a handle (12).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a handle as taught by Tai et al. since Tai et al. state at col. 2, lines 7-10, that such a modification would permit the stuffed toy to be carried from one place to another.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
